

THE WORKING OUT OF DESTINY 1

God has a destiny for us and he wants us to experience that destiny and see it outworked in our lives. Our destiny is to rule, to bring God's kingdom to earth as it is in heaven. This is God's plan and it has never changed. Adam messed it up, we mess it up, but Jesus came to return us to our original plan and destiny. Fill the earth, subdue it and rule .gen 1:28.

We are to bring what is in heaven to earth, through our lives. It is the churches destiny to rule, not so much in earthly government, but in spiritual authority bringing Gods kingdom to the earth, which will change earthly government.

Isaiah 2:2 the mountain of the house of the Lord – talking about the church – will be raised up above all the other mountains, all the other authorities that are vying for power in this world, God's kingdom is more influential than them all.

1 peter 2:9 we are a chosen race to rule, a royal priesthood. We have been chosen by God to fulfill his purpose.

The destiny to rule is through an intimate relationship with God based on love. It is not power or political stuff. It is through relationship with God based on love. Love must be the motive for all rule and dominion. Bringing his kingdom is all about love.

This destiny flows through a strong spirit, our spirit being needs to be strong and built up. Destiny can be blocked by a dominant soul.

We have to deal with the blockages in our soul that stops the flow of God's Spirit through our spirit bringing the kingdom upon the earth. Our soul needs to be restored.

The destiny that we all have is that God's glory is to be manifested on earth and beyond the earth through the sons of light.

One Corinthians 6:17 – the person who is united to the Lord becomes one spirit with him. It is God's intention that we have such an intimate relationship with him that we are one. No distinction between us and him. If you have seen me you have seen the father, you have seen Jesus.

His will and his purpose, his kingdom is outwork through us because we become so in tune with him, that he lives through us. But it takes time to come into this intimacy; it is called the pathway of relationship. The Holy Spirit penetrates into us where we participate in an identical life.

There is a process in how we relate to God and how his Spirit flows through us. The life of God flows out of heaven into our spirit activating all its senses. Our spirit senses certain attributes of God which fill it and flow through it.

Our spirit senses the fruit of the Spirit, God's love, joy and peace fill our spirit, expand our spirit and flow through it.

As the life of God flows into our spirit our spirit becomes very intuitive (knowing things instinctively, knowing things automatically, knowing things directly, without having to be fully understood with our mind) we intuitively know how to handle situations that use to baffle us.

As the life of God flows into our spirit, our spirit senses the holiness of God or the fear of God and our spirit is filled with it and it flows through it.

As the life of God flows into our spirit, our spirit senses feelings of deep respect and devotion to God and manifests reverence to God.

As the life of God flows into our spirit, our spirit senses what the Holy Spirit reveals to us. The revelation of God flows into our spirit. It is Spirit to spirit communication. The Holy Spirit discloses what mysteries to the human mind are. The information of God is revealed to our spirit in awe and wonder. It is an amazing and valuable experience, the revealing of something previously hidden or secret to our mind.

As the life of God flows into our spirit, our spirit senses the thoughts of God producing trust and confidence in the nature of God. Faith from God is imparted to our spirit.

As the life of God flows into our spirit, our spirit becomes alive with hope; it has a sense of confident expectation.

As our spirit is filled with the life of God, our spirit senses the presence of God. And in our conscious awareness of God's presence we communicate with God, we develop two way conversations with God. Our spirit communes with God in prayer. We ask God questions, and receive answers as our spirit senses what he is saying.

As our spirit senses the nature of God, it senses the majesty of God and worship flows through it unto God in a surrendering and joining and yielding to the Excellency of his lordship over it. We worship God in spirit and truth.

When all our spirit gates or senses are open and flowing with the life of God they lead us in saying to God I choose to surrender myself to you. And this is what God wants us to do. It is the opening up of the door, for the Lord to fill us with all of his fullness.

As the senses of our spirit become activated through the inflowing of God's Spirit then that life has to flow from our spirit into our soul, so that all its senses become activated, and this is where we encounter blockages.

Our soul is our conscious awareness and there are things in our soul, that our soul is aware of that oppose the life of God.

We have our spirit and our conscious mind and between the two is this area of the subconscious, or our heart. In that area there are memories, there are certain belief systems and values and desires and Jesus described it as soil. Which has had lots of things sown into it.

This has come through our natural DNA, which is from our parents, that sets up defense mechanisms and coping mechanisms and patterns of behavior that come from what we believe.

We've had a whole lot of experiences of life when we are being brought up which trained us to operate in certain ways.

So things like our reactions, our attitudes, our responses, fear, worry, all those things come from the outside in and manifest in our minds.

So when the life of God flows into our spirit we have an opportunity of surrendering to God so that he can deal with the things in our heart. Those things that lie to us and challenge us so that everything starts get transformed.

Then our behavior patterns start to come from the Revelation of the truth of God's word of who we are. Our mindsets become based on what God says to us in a flow of His Spirit.
